B.C.F. CERTIFICATES SCHEME

Mr W.A. Cordon writes:- This was started early in 1970 in an attempt to encourage the study of the game at an earlier stage than is usual in schools.

It was felt that the certificates would give an incentive for young players to think more about the game than merely to win the current game and the syllabus laid down would provide some guidance on what to think about. Many thousands of young players never even become aware that the game can be studied and so the Elementary Certificate, which really is intended to get this idea over, is probably the the most important of the three so far considered. Some people may say that a study may spoil enjoyment but I take the view that it should raise standards, bring success and increase enjoyment.

Further details can be obtained from J.Lambert Gorwyn, Coxdown House, Heathfield, Sussex, who also issues the Test papers and Syllabuses for Certificates I and II but briefly Certificate 1 asks for knowledge on:- The Rules, recording and reading a game or position, elementary ideas of Guico Piano and Ruy Lopez, ability to perform certain mates and to Queen pawns and to spot technical opportunities in given positions. Certificate 2 increases the difficulties of the above and adds further openings, Algebraic notation and the use of the clock. Certificate 3 has not yet been fully launched.

At the moment the main requirement is to publicize the Scheme in schools and particularly in schools which do not usually take part in organised Chess.

MATCH RESULTS

Mr A.J. Douglas writes:- Some Match Captains when forwarding results to the Hon. Tournament Secretary are omitting to show which players have Black or White pieces. This causes considerable difficulties, particularly when games have to be sent for adjudication and they should make sure that an appropriate note appears on their match result forms e.g. "(Name of County) had white on the odd/even Boards.

SOUTHEND-ON-SEA 15th ANNUAL CONGRESS

Particulars of this deservedly popular week-end Congress are now obtainable from Mr J.A.Speigel of 28A Boscombe Road, Southend-on-Sea, Essex. Thanks to Continued aid from the Local Council, the Congress is able to offer prizes totalling £150 (£75 1st Prize) for the Open Championship - a 7 rounds Swiss event open to all comers. The usual supporting events are available as in previous years.

We are again indebted to Mr Speigel for accommodating the Individual Championship of the Union (which carries a place in the B.C.F. Championship for the winner) and the Union Under 18 Championship. Both these are closed events and entry is by County nomination: County officials who wish to nominate entrants, should contact:-

4. CONGRATULATIONS

All our readers will undoubtedly wish to join us in offering our congratulations to Jonatham Penrose who is included in the New Year's Honours List with an O.B.E. for services to Chess, the second instance in recent years of an honour coming to a chess player in recognition of his services to the game.

We extend our best wishes to Miss Dinah Dobson and Mr Daniel Wright, whose engagement was announced this month with a photograph in the 'Daily Telegraph' of the happy couple playing chess! We trust that the readers of the 'Telegraph' fully appreciate the rewards that come to some chess players.

We also extend our best wishes to Miss O.C. Richards of Middlesex who married Mr E. Chataway since the last issue - another Chess marriage.
